COUNCIL ASKED TO DIVIDE BUILDING

Women Protest Against Use of Headquarters Room of Girl Scouts.

CLAIM COST IS ILLEGAL

Growing protests against the restricted use of the community building on the playground came to a climax Monday night, when a dozen women of the Borough, members of several organizations, attended the October meeting of Council.

Headed by Mrs. Edwin C. Town, they flourished copies of State laws to show that Council had no right to use public tax money to run a building restricted in part to private use.

The criticism was aimed almost in its entirety at the Narberth Girl Scouts, who were accused of various things from selfishness to noisemaking. It was the alleged refusal of this body to share their room with other organizations which precipitated the protests.

When presented to the borough two years ago, the Community Building was given for the perpetual use of the Girl Scouts, the American Legion and the Community Library. Each occupies a room 30 by 60 feet in size.

Mrs. Town informed the councilmen that, while they were permitted by law to pay for the upkeep of the Library's home, and to provide a place for the Legion, the third organization was not mentioned in the playground law covering the question.

President of Council E. C. Griswold refused to answer the various questions propounded by the women until the Borough Solicitor had been asked for an opinion, but he opened the meeting to a general discussion of the problem.

After Mrs. Town had asked the questions which implied that Council was violating the Borough Code, Councilman Daniel Leitch was the first to venture a suggestion.

"I believe," he said, "that every organization using the building should pay its proportionate share of the upkeep. People don't appreciate what they get free," he continued. "Remember the Y. M. C. A. When it was free it failed, when it closed its doors and people paid to use the building the property prospered."

ARCHITECT SPEAKS

Airman Tells Rotarians of War-Time Experiences.

J. Bedford Wooley, Cynwyd architect, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday. His topic was that taken at one or another by each member of the club, "Life History and Profession."

Mr. Wooley told the members of his early education in the Philadelphia schools and at Swarthmore Prep. His architectural training was received at Penn. from which course he was graduated in 1917.

Joining the service, he was first attached to an ambulance unit, which spent a dull year at Allentown and finally was assigned into the air force, holding the post of flight instructor in the balloon service at the close of the world war.

Many amusing incidents of his days in the service and a bit of rollicking verse served to a close the recital of his more recent activities.

Five members of the Ardmore Club, together with Jack Murray, of the Bala-Cynwyd branch of the Merion Title and Trust Company, and Rev. George E. Barnes, founder of the club, were the visitors. Only two local members were absent.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN TO MEET

The monthly meeting of the Republican women of Narberth will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Elm Hall. The chairman has asked all Republican women in the borough to be present.

The committee which attended council meeting last Monday night will be called on for a report at this time.

CHELtenham HIGH IS THIRD VICTIM

Lower Merion Takes Another
Game, 12-0, After Mud Battle.

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTS

Proving themselves good mud horses, Lower Merion High School's football warriors managed to eke out a victory over the strong Cheltenham High eleven that traveled to Ardmore Saturday. The score was 12-0, with the goose-egg for the visiting team.

The day was a fine one for anything but football. It rained steadily throughout the morning and only stopped just before game time. The field was a regular quagmire with small puddles of murky water, which some of the players used to wash off the sticky ooze that clung to them.

Throughout the entire 20 minutes of the first half Cheltenham played a purely defensive game, awaiting a "break" which never came. Lower Merion kicked off and on the very first play Cheltenham returned the kick to the waiting arms of Smith, who ran the ball back 20 yards.

Lower Merion seemed able to gain at will until it reached Cheltenham's 10-yard line, where the opposition repeatedly took the ball on downs. Securing the ball in this fashion Cheltenham would immediately kick and Lower Merion would start its march all over again. Toward the end of the half Lower Merion was again in touch-down territory, but again lost the ball on downs.

This time the Maroon and White forward line broke through and hurried the kicker, who got off a miserable punt which went

WOMEN VOTERS ELECT

Mrs. A. C. Staples to Head Local Branch.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Narberth League of Women Voters the following officers were elected for the ensuing year; Chairman, Mrs. A. C. Staples; vice chairman, Mrs. Eder S. Haws; Treasurer, Miss Florence Pray; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. F. C. Torrey, and Recording Secretary, Mrs. Frank Follmer.

The Montgomery County League of Women Voters are giving an illustrated lecture, "The Enchanted City—Washington," at the Stewart High School, Marshall street, Norristown, next Wednesday evening at 8 P. M. All league members have received tickets by mail.

If any from the Narberth League would like transportation by automobile, there is space available for the asking, to accommodate a limited number. Call Narberth 2671-W.

BAZAAR COMING

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church of Narberth will hold a bazaar on December 3. John A. Caldwell has offered the ladies the use of any vacant store on Haverford avenue available on that date.

There will be an abundance of selections for Christmas gifts as well as the necessities for the Christmas dinner, as the ladies plan to have homemade cakes, pies, candy and home canned fruit, vegetables and pickles. The doors will be opened at 10 A. M., and will remain open throughout the day and evening.

The vexatious problem of house numbering on Montgomery avenue was solved this week by the Highway Committee of Borough Council, who reported the results of a recent survey and the assignment of an entirely new set of numbers.

No longer will the members skip about erratically, with duplications and long gaps. No longer will groceries for the owner of the house number 19 be deposited on the rear porch of another home of the same number several blocks removed.

The entire system from Haverford avenue to Wynnewood avenue has been scrapped and a new series, beginning with with 600 and reaching 1400 at Wynnewood avenue, has been ordered. The report of the committee, describing the new system for Montgomery and Narberth avenues, follows:

"At the last meeting of Council, the necessity for renumbering the residences and properties on Montgomery avenue was referred to this committee. We got in touch with the township authorities as it was described that any system of numbers adopted by the borough for the south side of Montgomery avenue should conform to whatever system the township might have in effect for the north side of the same street. As a result of conferences with the township authorities, such a system has been worked out and your committee recommends that it be authorized to notify the borough residents on Montgomery avenue that, effective November 1, 1927, the following system of numbers will become effective:

"Beginning with number 600 at the corner of Haverford and Montgomery avenues and proceeding westerly on Montgomery avenue, even numbers shall be applied in numerical sequence, one number for every 25 feet, as

COLLECTION COSTS LOW

Residents of the Main Line section are directly interested in three of the 128 member agencies of the Welfare Federation that will participate in the seventh annual campaign to be held October 24 to November 4.

The local agencies are: The Ardmore Community League, Ardmore; Community Health and Civic Association, Ardmore; Haverford Community Center, Haverford.

In addition two branches of city hospitals are located in the district, the Ivycroft Farm, Convalescent Home for Men of the Jefferson Hospital, at Wayne, and the Elizabeth Cathart Home for Incurables of the Presbyterian Hospital, at Devon. Every resident is also interested in the Boy Scouts of America. The Delaware and Montgomery Counties Council is one of the member agencies.

According to figures just issued by the Federation, the entire administration expenses amounted to a fraction less than 5 per cent. of the total amount subscribed by the public of metropolitan Philadelphia in the last campaign. Before the Federation was organized the overhead cost of raising money alone ranged from 6 to 20 per cent. The same conditions prevail now in communities where there are no federations. The low percentage of overhead recorded in Philadelphia puts the Welfare Federation in the very forefront of similar records made by the 304 cities throughout the country in which the Federation idea has been adopted. The record is the lowest made in any large city.

RARE OLD BIBLES ARE BROUGHT OUT

Interesting Exhibit Part of Service at Baptist Church.

ONE OF 17TH CENTURY

Old Bibles from a number of Narberth families exhibited last Sunday at the morning service of the Baptist Church of the Evangelist. They were used by the Rev. Robert E. Keighton in connection with his sermon for the day.

There were many interesting copies on display. Some were beautifully illuminated, while some were bound in heavy padded covers with locks and clasps and other indications of antiquity.

The following families supplied the service with their family Bibles Sunday: Claypoole, Clevenger, Cordo, Farson, Hillegas, H. B. Hopper, H. S. Hopper, Horner, Jones, Keighton, Kempton, Monk, Palmquist, Patten, Sabrovitch, Simpson, H. T. Smedley, W. D. Smedley, Stapp, Super, Taft, Trotter, Tyler, Wetherbee and Williamson.

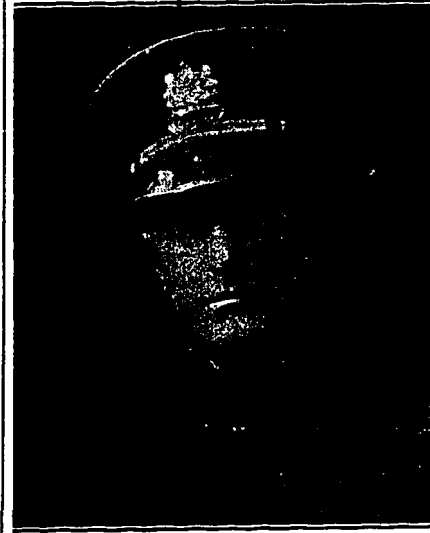

Most of them were from the nineteenth century, a few from the eighteenth and one, that of Miss Tyler, was dated 1697. This last one was the one from which the pastor read the Scripture lesson—Psalm 119:105-120. It was printed in England by John Hayes, Printer to the University, and contains in addition to the Old and New Testaments, the Book of Common Prayer, the Apocrypha, the Administration of the Sacraments and the Psalter.

Another Bible of note was that of the Clevenger family. It was that presented to Mrs. Herbert Logan Clevenger by her father, the late Rev. Dr. Robert G. Seymour, Missionary and Bible Secretary of the American Baptist Publication Society.

The Simpson family Bible was the possession of Mrs. Simpson's mother, Mary A. Simpson, for

ELECTION DETAILS ENGAGE OFFICIALS

First Primary Expenses in as Drawings For November
Are Held.

LITTLE SPENT IN SEPT.

Election details occupied the attention of county officials at Norristown this week. On Tuesday drawings for places on the ballot in November election were held in the offices of the county commissioners and on Monday first expense accounts of candidates in the primary election filed with the Clerk of Courts were made public.

Due to the unusually quiet primary in September when there were but two contests for Republican nominations to county offices all major party candidates filed comparatively small expense accounts. For local offices, harmony also reigned, generally, and most candidates in this field reported they spent less than $50.

Among the county office aspirants who have filed expense accounts and the amounts they spent are:

William G. Hower, Bryn Mawr, successful candidate for Recorder of Deeds, had one contribution of $100 and spent $505.

Elwood W. Fulmer, Spring Mount, unsuccessful candidate for County Commissioner, spent $278.

William J. Bysher, unsuccessful candidate for Register of Wills, $1753.21. He had no contributions.

Frank X. Renninger, Glenside, successful candidate for District Attorney, $900.

Samuel D. Crawford, Norristown, successful candidate for County Commissioner, $764.88.

Daniel F. Stout, Glenside, successful candidate for County Commissioner, $751.38.

William C. Irvin, Ambler, successful candidate for Controller, $734.

POLICE CLEAR UP BURGLARY SERIES

Suspect Captured in City
Confesses to East End
Jobs.

MULLIN GETS ANOTHER

A series of burglaries which took place in Narberth and Cynwyd the past few months were cleaned up by Lower Merion police during the week when they quizzed a suspect arrested by Philadelphia officials who confessed to the jobs. The man gave his name as Elmer C. Osborne and his address as Lancaster, Pa.

Osborne was picked up last Thursday when he attempted to dispose of jewelry stolen here to a city pawn broker. The police were tipped off by the dealer who became suspicious when he recognized some of the valuables offered him from descriptions broadcast by the Lower Merion officials.

Lieutenant Mullin, of the township police, was detailed to the case and obtained a complete confession from the prisoner in short order. Among the jobs which Osborne admitted that he had committed were burglaries of the homes of George H. Rasch, 290 Haverford avenue, Narberth; Peter Stanley Barton, 124 Maple avenue, Bala; Carl P. Berger, 308 Cynwyd road, Cynwyd; Laura W. Pomeroy, 115 Maple avenue, Bala, and Mrs. Marie E. Monaghan, 362 Bala avenue, Cynwyd.

At the Rasch home, clothing, jewelry and valuables to the amount of $4000 had been taken; at Barton's, $600; at Berger's, $2000; at Pomeroy's, $200, and at Mrs. Monaghan's, $40. The stolen articles were traced by the Lower Merion police and by the middle of the week practically all of them had been recovered and returned to their owners.

Osborne, who was given a hearing in the Ardmore police station following his confession, was held for Court without bail.

The Lower Merion and Narberth house breakers were the second of a series of robberies which Lieutenant Mullin was instrumental in clearing up during the past two weeks. In the first as well as the second his grilling of a suspect resulted in securing a confession which enabled the police to complete their case.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of "Our Town":

There seems to be some misunderstanding in the minds of the members of the various organizations in Narberth as to whom they shall apply for the use of the Community Building. As the Community Building is the property of the borough and is maintained at public expense, it is logical that borough organizations should apply direct to Council.

Those who have applied to the Park and Recreation Board have done so in ignorance of the State borough law regarding the power of such boards, which according to an act of March 24, 1927, permits them only to "supervise and maintain parks, playgrounds, playfields, gymnasiums, public baths, swimming pools or indoor recreation centers."

Margaret Gutelius Town.

KUNKEI SNAPS

Well, we're still here! Don't worry, we haven't broken up our group. And to show you that we are still an important part of Narberth, we are going to have a cake bake on October 22, 1927, in the empty room next to Paperman's fruit store.

On October 20 we are holding a ceremonial at the home of Helen Nice. We will initiate two new members into our group, namely, Alice Edwards and Madeline Cohee. We are going to have on October 27 a Halloween party at Betty Magarity's home. Don't forget that date with me on October 22 at 10 A. M. on Haverford avenue.

RACES TOMORROW

Bon Master and Billy Barton
Are Scheduled to Run.

Charles E. Mather and W. Plunkett Stewart, of Haverford, will act as Stewards at the autumn meeting of the Whitemarsh Valley Hunt Club to be held at Wissahickon Farms tomorrow at 2.30 P. M. Busses will meet trains at the Chestnut Hill station of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

E. T. Stotesbury will entertain the race committee and officials of the meet at a luncheon in his home, Whitemarsh Hall, before the meet. The races will be followed by a dinner with the officials playing the part of hosts.

There will be seven races ranging from six furlongs on the flat to three and a half miles over post and rails. One of the most interesting races will be that for the famous Pennsylvania Hunt Cup which will be run between Bon Master and Billy Barton, race horses owned by two Baltimore sportsmen. They are considered the fastest post and rail racers in the East.

Killed by Car

A former Philadelphia policeman was killed last Saturday night on Lancaster avenue near City Line, when struck by an automobile driven by Russell W. Davenport, 28-year-old Yale graduate and world war veteran, who lives on South Carlisle street, in Philadelphia. Davenport took his victim to the Bryn Mawr Hospital and later surrendered to the Ardmore police. He was held in $3000 bail by Magistrate Kromer.

Thomas E. Russell, negro, of Philadelphia, the victim, was standing on Lancaster avenue behind a truck, repairing the rear light when Davenport's car crashed into him.

FIREMAN GET INSIGNIA

Will Protect Volunteers From Arrest
At Fires.

Volunteer firemen in Narberth will not be troubled any more with notices warning them not to park their cars near fires, and not to speed on their way to fires, as a result of the distribution this week of insignia which they will place on their cars. The insignia bears the words, "Lower Merion Volunteer," and has in the center a fireman's hat. Chief Charles V. Noel handed out the discs.

The police in the past have been unable to distinguish firemen from curious citizens, and have reported to headquarters license numbers of all cars spotted speeding to fires, or parking nearer the scene of conflagrations than the law allows. The new measure is a boon both to the police and to the volunteer firemen, who frequently miss their company's trucks, and speed to fires in their own automobiles.

Each fire chief has received a consignment of the insignias and is distributing them to the volunteers in his company, as they sign receipts, and list their license numbers with him. The license numbers will be placed on file with the police for check-up measures.

Fire chiefs are also in receipt of maps showing the extent of their individual territories. These maps are furnished in order that householders in the vicinity of first-class houses may receive the lowest insurance rate possible from the Suburban Board of Fire Underwriters.

DIBONA WINS CASE

Nicholas DiBona, Lower Merion police officer formerly stationed at Narberth, was sued for damages this week in Norristown by Esther J. Nelson, of West Manayunk, who alleged DiBona was driver of an auto which struck and badly injured her as she was crossing the street to her home on Ashland avenue late at night on May 9.

Attorney Frye, representing the defendant, sought a non-suit because he claimed no negligence had been shown by DiBona, as the woman was struck by his auto at a point opposite a blind street. After a short recess, the attorneys representing the two parties announced a settlement had been reached, whereby a verdict was to be rendered for the defendant.

BENEFIT CONCERT, OCTOBER 24

A feature of the current musical season will be a "musical evening," which will be given by Chief Caulpolican, celebrated South American Indian baritone, and Madame Euphemia Giannini-Gregory, prima donna soprano, both members of the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company, on Monday evening, October 24, at the Penn Athletic Club. The concert will be given for the benefit of the Holiday House at Valley Forge, and the Home for the Aged at Narberth, both of which institutions are supported by the King's Daughters. The Committee of Arrangements is headed by Mrs. Fred Derby, of Narberth, whose aides are Mrs. J. Howard Ervien, Miss M. Louisa Harbaugh, Mrs. Francis H. Baker, Mrs. William Fischer, Mrs. Harry Hughes, Mrs. Ella Walker, Miss Elizabeth Lawrence, Mrs. Ida B. Davis, Miss Estelle Marlin and Miss Eva Rittenhouse.

BEATTY-HAAF

In the presence of numerous friends and relatives, Florence Christina Haaf was married to Ralph Assheton Beatty, on Saturday evening, October 8, in the Methodist Church, Geneseo, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Sanderson, pastor of the church.

The bride, a daughter of Mrs. Estelle Haaf, attended high school at Narberth, and later was president of the Junior Community Club.

While in Narberth she made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Robert W. Caldwell.

The groom, who is in business in Rochester, N. Y., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Beatty, of 400 North Narberth avenue. He also attended the Narberth High School and later Penn State College.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Leslie Haaf, was attended by her sister, Miss Gretchen Haaf, maid of honor, and the following bridesmaids: Miss Dorothy M. Beatty, sister of the groom; Misses Ruth E. Caldwell, of Narberth, and Doris Harrington, of Buffalo, cousins of the bride, and Miss Dorothy E. Wilson, of Narberth.

The best man was Mr. Harry Houck, of Philadelphia. The ushers, Messrs. John Wilson, of Narberth; Robert Le Feber, and Robert Kelsey, of Geneseo, and Dilwin Rose, of Rochester.

GROCERS ORGANIZE

Formation of a new Main Line association of grocers will probably take place next Wednesday when representatives from Overbrook to Wayne will meet in the Brookline Square Club to organize. William T. McIntyre is chairman of a committee of five which met last Friday night to discuss plans for forming the association.

Present at Friday night's meeting, held in the Brookline Square Club, were John Jackson, William T. McIntyre and Harry Katz, of Ardmore; George M. Dando, of Narberth, and Messrs. Max Pinkus and Megarity, of John Price & Company, Philadelphia grocers.

Over 25 Main Line grocers are interested in forming the association, which will enable them to maintain better relationships with one another and with their trade. They hope to benefit by an exchange of ideas and information and by better co-operation.

ATTEND REUNION

Samuel R. Markle, of Narberth; George M. Painter, of Bala and Frank Peyer, of Cynwyd, were among those to attend the fourteenth annual reunion of the Treemount Seminary held Saturday in Norristown. At the election of officers for the coming year Mr. Painter was made first vice president.

NATIONAL SECRETARY
AT MOTHERS' COUNCILMrs. E. E. Kiernan Addresses Local Body.

Narberth Mothers' Council was described as a part of an inspiring world-wide movement by Mrs. E. E. Kiernan, the National Corresponding Secretary, at the Council's monthly meeting last Monday evening.

The many mothers who were present came away feeling a greater interest in developing the work, which is steadily growing in influence, having gained more than 1,000,000 members in the last five years in the United States alone.

The work in the United States has interested European and South American countries, developing this year into an international organization, with our national President, Mrs. A. H. Reeves, of Philadelphia, as international head.

State Superintendents of Public Instruction have recently become interested in organizing rural communities, and the national headquarters in the offices of the National Education Association at Washington is sending out organizers into a number of western States.

A point of interest to the Narberth group is the fact that this whole movement was started by a Philadelphia teacher, Miss Ann Heygate Hall, who discovered that through her friendship with the mothers she came to have a better understanding and greater interest in each child as an individual.

Mrs. Kiernan also told of many interesting accomplishments of groups in other localities who had been able to help school officials to obtain community support of necessary projects for the improvement of the school.

This meeting was well attended, and all are looking forward to a later meeting when the Council will have as speaker their national president.

Plans are being laid for celebration of Education Week early in November.

ERLING KOLLER

Mrs. R. Newman, of Lantwyn lane, is entertaining her two sisters-in-law from Kingston, Pa.

Mrs. Frank H. Kennedy entertained at bridge last Thursday evening at her home on Lantwyn lane. Her guests were Mrs. Harold Griest, Mrs. Arthur L. Cooke, Mrs. John C. Nash, Mrs. R. Newman, Mrs. L. Fielding Howe, Mrs. G. Burnett and Miss Alberta Davis.

Mrs. Musser M. Moore has returned to her home on Grayling avenue after undergoing a serious operation at the Presbyterian Hospital three weeks ago. Her friends will be glad to hear that she is gaining strength rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brisbin, of South Narberth avenue, are guests at the Hotel Alvord at East Orange, N. J.

Miss Elizabeth England, of Sabine avenue, was the guest of honor at a luncheon-bridge which Mrs. Robert Durbin gave at her home on Narberth avenue last Thursday. Miss England's engagement to Mr. Howard F. Cotter, Jr., was recently announced.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bickford Brooks have returned to their home on Narberth avenue after spending the month of September at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Raymond Swing, of Chicago, was the guest of honor at a luncheon which Mrs. Winthrop Derby gave at her lovely home on Wynnedale avenue last Wednesday. The guests were Mrs. William Durbin, Mrs. Horace Smedley, Mrs. Douglas Miner, Mrs. William Fretz, Mrs. Franklin Wedge, Mrs. George Riddle, Mrs. Robert Collins, Mrs. Arthur L. Cooke, Mrs. A. Perry Redifer, Jr., and Miss Anna Butler of Winthrop, Mass., who is the house guest of Mrs. Miner.

Mrs. R. E. Seaboldt, of 401 North Narberth avenue, will entertain the members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Lutheran church at their regular monthly meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Nash, of Wynnedale road, have returned from Paris, where they attended the A. E. F. Convention. After a week in France visiting points of interest they had the thrilling experience of a trip by air from LeBourget Field, Paris, to Croyden Field, London. They spent a week in London, returning on the S. S. Republic to New York.

Richard K. Warr, of 622 Montgomery avenue, is one of the students in the sophomore class at Rutgers University eligible for admission to the newly-instituted Honor School in the College of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Walter T. Marvin, dean of the faculty, announced today. Warr was selected by a special committee of the faculty because of high scholastic standing during his freshman year, and because of special aptitude for the subjects which he is studying. Members of the Honor School will be granted special privileges and will be given greater laxity in attendance at classes.

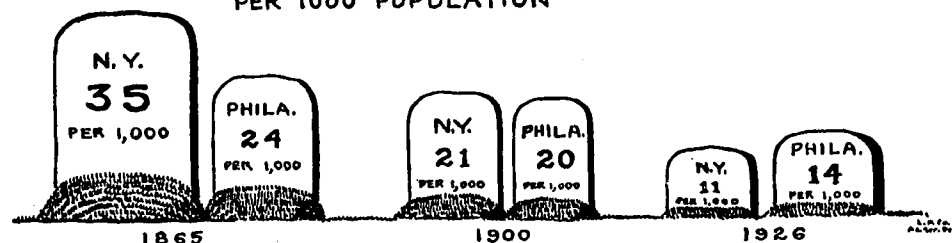

Mrs. Elmer L. Stapp, 220 Wayne avenue, had a deferred pleasure in entertaining the A. W. T. Auxiliary of the Gethsemane Baptist Church, Philadelphia, last Saturday. Although only 21 faced the storm to come the required distance, it was the consensus of opinion that the very conditions involved proved an incentive to surcharge the atmosphere with individual activity. Hence, notwithstanding the necessity of a postponement of the annual outing with her in June, and the inclement weather, this gathering was voted the best ever.

The next regular meeting of the Ardmore Woman's Club will be held October 21, at 2.30 P. M.

You Benefit by Your Own Gift

Giving to the Welfare Federation is more than a charitable act. It is an investment in community health made through the most efficient channels.

Philadelphia's death rate was once much lower than New York's. Now it is higher! During the "flu" epidemic Philadelphia's was 24 per 1000 while New York's was only 17. New York has contributed millions to public health and sanitation while we have been content with less vigorous efforts.

A HUMANE BUSINESS—The Welfare Federation operates 128 Service Stations. It corrects, helps, advises, encourages, feeds, relieves, and cures human beings in every stage of ill-luck and misfortune that may beset them. It studies, searches, deduces, and charts ways and means by which human beings can be kept from falling below the par of self dependence and normal health. It has been estimated by the National Chamber of Commerce at Washington that illness costs the United States two billion dollars annually and early death six billion dollars annually.

Main Line Bookkeeper Turns Poet --- Publishes Her First Book

From bookkeeper to poetess is the story of youthful Antoinette Rapposelli, formerly of the Main Line. Miss Rapposelli was until this year bookkeeper for Adelizzi Brothers, who maintain establishments in Bala-Cynwyd and Narberth.

"The Opal Ring" is the name of her first collection of poems, published recently by the Gorham Press (R. G. Badger, Boston).

For a "first," the book is not at all bad. In fact, many of the numerous short poems contained in its 128 pages have a distinct appeal.

Some show great promise; some demonstrate an early artistic maturity. Titles range from "The Opal Ring," the first in the collection, to "Fulfillment," which is very well written; from "Philosophy," in which the writer wades in somewhat beyond her depth to "The Sun's Children," a graceful little tit-bit, replete in poetic instinct; from "The Magic Waves," amateurishly limping but pleasing withal, to "Despair," which is finely done; sad, but not plaintive; strongly written, but with a feminine grace.

"If I could Remember" is rather tantalizing because of its promise. With a little touching up, it would make a lyric fit for setting to music. It lacks perfection, but there is real poetry in it. "The Opal Ring" is nicely polished, and is one of the best things in the book, as befits its position in the vanguard of the poetic host of titles.

Two illustrative poems, short and readily quotable, are "We Met" and "What Price Success." The latter is a fitting commentary on the nature of a bookkeeper who prefers the smoother flowing realm of poetry.

Celebrate Fifty-fourth Anniversary of School

More than 240 people gathered in the Baptist Church at Gladwyne last Sunday to celebrate the fifty-fourth anniversary of the Sunday School, which, under the leadership of Richard J. Hamilton, superintendent, and Andrew D. McNaughton, assistant superintendent and teacher, the school has grown from a mere handful of students to the present average attendance of 95.

After Mr. Hamilton's address of welcome the students were each presented with books, and those having a perfect attendance received pens as honor prizes. Addresses were made by the visiting pastors of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Episcopal churches and by the Rev. D. C. Stevens, former pastor of the Lower Merion Baptist Church. The choir sang two anthems and solos were rendered by Miss Emily Scull, Frederick Geuth and Thomas Concoran.

BENEFIT CONCERT, OCTOBER 24

A feature of the current musical season will be a "musical evening," which will be given by Chief Caupolican, celebrated South American Indian baritone, and Madame Euphemia Giannini-Gregory, prima donna soprano, both members of the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company, on Monday evening, October 24, at the Penn Athletic Club. The concert will be given for the benefit of the Holiday House at Valley Forge, and the Home for the Aged at Narberth, both of which institutions are supported by the King's Daughters. The Committee of Arrangements is headed by Mrs. Fred Derby, of Narberth, whose aides are Mrs. J. Howard Ervien, Miss M. Louisa Harbaugh, Mrs. Francis H. Baker, Mrs. William Fischer, of Cynwyd, Mrs. Harry Hughes, Mrs. Ella Walker, Miss Elizabeth Lawrence, Mrs. Ida B. Davis, Miss Estelle Marlin and Miss Eva Rittenhouse.

ATTEND REUNION

George M. Painter, of Bala; Frank Beyer, of Cynwyd, and Samuel R. Markle, of Narberth, were among those to attend the fourteenth annual reunion of the Treemount Seminary held Saturday in Norristown. At the election of officers for the coming year Mr. Painter was made first vice president.

Some men are constantly trying to lower the record for meanness.

Open New Ardmore Bank Building

The new building of Counties Title and Trust Company, at Montgomery and Anderson avenue in Ardmore, was formally opened to the public last week. To the right is a detail photograph of the night depository, which is one of the features of the new building. A bronze plate and door set in the wall of the building near the entrance give access to a chute leading to a special vault inside. In the lower illustration Anthony L. Alf, vice president of the Main Line's newest bank, shows how money or valuable papers may be deposited in the night depository after the regular banking hours.

OVEN FIRE BRINGS ENGINES

Fire in the kitchen oven at the home of Dr. Gabriel Tucker, 107 Lodge lane, Cynwyd, caused the Bala-Cynwyd Fire Company to make a quick run last Thursday at 6:30 P. M. Little damage was done. Burning grease in the oven was the cause of the blaze.

You Need Never Change Your Oil if You Own a Buick

Last year Buick said: "Change your oil only four times a year." Buick tests at the great Proving Ground of General Motors at that time had shown that oil changes would never be necessary, with the Oil Filter to remove impurities, and the Crankcase Ventilator to prevent oil dilution.

Now, more than a year has passed, and Buick owners in every section of the world—under every climatic condition—have also proved that you never need change your oil if you own a Buick—replenishment and inspection of the Buick Oil Filter only are required.

THE NEW ERA IN TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION

WERE THEY "GOOD OLD DAYS"?

ONLY a few years ago when you lifted your receiver to make an out-of-town call, the procedure was something like this:

"Number, please?" said the operator.

"Let me have Long Distance." The Long Distance operator came on the line.

"This is Long Distance."

"I want to get Doeville 1234, etc., etc."

"Thank you, the operator will call you."

A little—perhaps quite a little—later your bell rang.

"Ready with Doeville."

And your conversation started. TODAY—

"Number, please?"

"Let me have Doeville 1234."

And—practically as quickly as on a local call—you are connected.

That's the kind of service we are giving on out-of-town calls to the places most frequently called.

And the area covered by this new-era service is constantly being expanded.

For street cleaning, $481.04; for street maintenance, $72.36; for collecting 488 cubic yards of ashes, $356.12; for work in connection with the installation of the oil burner at the Community Building, $27.00; for work on the playground, $27.36; for work on Montgomery avenue manholes, made necessary by the county work which is now proceeding on that street, $41.76; for work on cleaning Narberth avenue storm sewer, and the installation of three manholes in connection therewith, $72.36.

"Three permits for depositing materials on the highway were issued during the past month and the fees therefrom amounted to $35.00. Six permits were issued for opening the public highway and the fees therefrom amounted to $118.00."

whom the Methodist Church of that name in Philadelphia is a memorial.

The Hopper Bible was formerly in possession of Mr. Harry S. Hopper, superintendent of the school and well-known to most of the folks of Narberth. Mrs. H. S. Hopper is of the Bucknell family, for whom Bucknell University is named.

Just before Dr. F. W. E. Steden left for California he gave to Mr. Keighton an old Bible that had been the possession of Miss Susie Unruh. This was from the family of Gorgas for whom Gorgas avenue and lane in Germantown were named.

LOWER MERION WINS

out of bounds on the visitor's 25-yard line. From here Lower Merion's backfield again went to work; and off-tackle slants by Mearns, Smith, Cross and Kohlhas soon pushed over the first touchdown. Ossie Smith carried the ball across the final marker.

The second half was a repetition of the first, with Lower Merion having a still easier time in making gains. Soon after the start of the half Smith again went over for his second touchdown. Captain Cook again missed the extra point. The ball was very wet and skidded off his toe as he struck it. The score now read Lower Merion, 12; Cheltenham 0. At this point Coach Adam sent in many substitutes who held the enemy in check for the balance of the game.

The pictorial over Cheltenham again makes Lower Merion appear as a contender for the suburban championship. Coach Adam will now have to guard against a spirit of over confidence in his players, and keep them in the right frame of mind for the coming games.

The Wilmington High School will be the opposition for tomorrow's game, and the fray promises to be a real thriller. It was this same school that two years ago broke Lower Merion's winning streak, which had totaled nearly 25 straight victories. The score of that game was 7-6, with Wilmington the victor.

Last year Lower Merion traveled to Wilmington and played its best game of the season, winning by the score of 6-0. Tomorrow Wilmington will be out for revenge with as powerful a team as usual.

Announcement is made by the Board of Directors of the appointment of Mr. Ernest W. Tallman, of Wayne, as General Manager of the Automobile Club of Philadelphia. Mr. Tallman, who is president of the Kiwanis Club of Philadelphia, also holds membership in the Merion Cricket Club and Poor Richard Club.

BULLETIN BOARDS PLACED

The library has been the beneficiary this past month of the interest of two of the men of the borough in its affairs. The need for bulletin boards to display the covers of new books and to convey other information for the benefit of the patrons of the library has been under consideration for some time. The expense of the regular bulletin boards was prohibitive and the problem was unsolved until Mr. Joseph A. Hongler, of Merion Avenue, whose wife has been one of the long-active members of the library staff, purchased at wholesale and at a very nominal cost through business friends of his several large strips of linoleum.

Mr. Clifford W. Bates, whose wife is also a member of the staff, took up the work at that point, with the result that the bulletin boards are in place, very attractively and very efficiently mounted.

The library wishes to acknowledge gratitude for the interest and work of these two men, and also to assure other men that similar services on their own part, while welcomed, are not essential to cordial co-operation with their wives' participation in the volunteer work of the library.

WOMEN ASK FOR USE OF COMMUNITY BUILDING

Mr. Griswold read the agreement between the trustees of the defunct Y. M. C. A. and the borough, by which the $35,000 building was given to the town. He explained that the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Legion and Library were invited to use the structure because the differed from other organizations in that they were supported by public contributions, not dues.

It was brought out that several months ago, when the desires of several organizations to use the building became known, a movement was started to combine the Legion with its Auxiliary into the same room as the Girl Scouts. It was stated that the Legion and Auxiliary were willing to make the move, but that Mrs. Ruth H. Nash, leader of the Girl Scouts, and one member of the Y. M. C. A. trustees balked at the plan.

The Legion then turned their room over to the School Board to house the new kindergarten during school hours, but no concessions were made by the occupants of the west wing. As a result a number of the organizations seeking to meet in the community building during its unoccupied times have been turned down.

It was Mrs. F. P. Dunlop, a worker at the Library, who made the charges of noise against the scouts. "Often we cannot work in the Library," she said, "because of the rowdiness, the shouting, throwing of water from the windows, and other noise."

President Griswold suggested that a further meeting be held, at which time representatives of the various organizations wanting to share the building meet with Council, the Recreation Board, School Board, Trustees of the Y. M. C. A. and others interested, in an attempt to reach an amicable agreement.

While Council took no formal action in the matter, the individual members were practically unanimous in their opinion that the present limited use of the building was wasteful and unfair to the borough as a whole, and that an early solution would be sought.

CLEAR UP BURGLARIES

In the first, Francis Heyer, 19, of Lakeside Avenue, Akron, O., was the victim. He was picked up a week ago by Officer James Taylor with two companions when an automobile the three were using was caught speeding on Lancaster pike in Wynnewood.

Make Get-Away.

Taylor took the trio to the Ardmore headquarters to slate them for speeding. No suspicion was entertained that they were wanted for anything else and no precautions were taken to guard them. Taking advantage of this, the trio made a dash for liberty as they were being booked and succeeded in making a get-away. Call boxes were used to broadcast a description of the men to policemen on duty in various parts of the township.

Later that night Officer Joseph Crooks, in making the rounds of his beat in North Ardmore, spotted a man on Cherry lane and stopped him for questioning. The man claimed he was a hiker seeking a place to rest, but Crooks arrested him as a suspicious character and took him to headquarters. There his prisoner was identified as Heyer, one of the three who had escaped after being arrested earlier in the day for speeding.

Heyer was turned over to Lieutenant Mullin and Sergeant Brown, and after being grilled confessed to participation in a series of nine store robberies covering five cities. His companions, he said, were known to him as W. H. Ranger and Fred Stoyen. When arrested by Officer Taylor for speeding, he declared they had been heavily armed with .45 Colt automatic service guns and blackjacks, but fearing a search at headquarters had thrown these away in an empty lot in Wynnewood when the officer who arrested them turned his back. These revolvers were later recovered by the police.

Heyer told the police that he and his companions had left Akron the third week in September, and since that time had held up two drug stores in Pittsburgh, two in Washington, D. C., one in Baltimore, two in Philadelphia and three in Trenton. The trio covered the distances between these cities in the machine which they got into trouble with earlier in the evening for speeding.

Among other places visited by the gang was Ossining, the site of the New York State Sing Sing. No robberies committed by the crowd, Heyer declared.

The ringleader of the crowd, according to the police, was Ranger, who is said to come from a wealthy family. Following his confession Heyer was turned over to the city police for his connection with the Philadelphia drug store robberies.

The Automatic Furnaceman

FROM September until June, year after year, it's the same old story—

Dad, Will You Take a Look at the Furnace?

You build fires! Shovel coal! Lug out ashes! Run up and down stairs to keep the fire going! But this daily invitation to drudgery and furnace-tending will be eliminated by the HEATOMAT GAS BOILER.

You just light the HEATOMAT once, in the Fall—that's all! Thereafter—a thermostat, placed in the living room, maintains any desired temperature at all times.

You can install the HEATOMAT Gas Boiler to your present steam, hot water or vapor plant. Investigate its superior service and economies.
